The Idyl of the Island

1

By Susie Frances Harrison (1859-1935)

female

Definition

Amherst: An English Admiral who kissed a married Canadian women without telling her in The Idyl of the Island.

“I know one man,” she said, in a voice choked with sobs, “who would not have done it.”

Amherst started. “I am sorrier than ever, believe me. I might have known you were engaged, or had a lover—one so charming”—

“It is not that,” said the lady. “I am married.” She was still struggling with her emotion.

Amherst recoiled. He was torn with conflicting thoughts. What if he had been seen giving that involuntary salute? He might have ruined her peace for ever. Who would believe in the truth of any possible explanation?

“I will leave you at once;” he said stiffly “there is nothing more to be said.”

“Oh! you will reproach me now!” said his companion, wiping her eyes as the tears came afresh.

Short Answer Questions

1. A lover or engaged man before marriage. Love for that man is no longer possible.
2. He might be a third person to the Canadian woman’s life.
3. I wish you to stay, but you leave me to punish me.

The Wedding Gift

65

By Thomas H. Raddall (1903-94)

male

Definition

Kezia Barnes: The girl who married Mr. Mears in The Wedding Gift.

Mr. Mears: The English preacher who married Kezia in The Wedding Gift.

Mr. Hathaway: The man who is decided by the Barclays to marry Kezia in The Wedding Gift.

The Barclays: The home which brought up Kezia, an orphan as house-help in The Wedding Gift.

I'll ride a mile or so, then I'll get down and tie the horse to a tree and walk on. When you come up to the horse, you mount and ride a mile or so, passing me on the way, and you tie him and walk on. Like that, Ride-and-tie, ride-and-tie. The horse gets a rest between.

"Well, to begin with, he'll ask where I spent the night, and I'll have to tell the truth. I'll have to say I bundled with you in a hut in the woods."

Kezia watched him out of sight. Then, swiftly, she undid her bundle and took out the thing that had lain there (and on her conscience) through the night—the tinderbox—Mr. Barclay's wedding gift to Mr. Hathaway. She flung it into the woods and walked on, skirts lifted, in the track of the horse, humming a psalm true to the silent trees and the snow.

Short Answer Questions

1. Two people share one horse and take turns to ride the horse ahead and tie up for the person following behind on foot.
2. The method that Mr. Mears and Kezia slept together. Sleeping with their clothes on when a couple is courting on a winter evening.
3. A small box used for holding the things needed for lighting a fire. It was Mr. Barclay's wedding gift to Mr. Hathaway but hidden by Kezia when Mr. Mears and her in need of it.

Petite Misère

96

By Gabrielle Roy (1909-83)

female

Definition

Christine: A little girl who refused to eat and go out until her father cooked her a pie in Petite Misère

That day I dug the word from my memories, seized upon it, and, not yet aware of the terrible meaning it contained, I repeated to myself, "A child of duty! I am a child of duty!"

And later on, after another silence, he said to me, so sadly that even today finding its way amid memories as crowded as a forest, the exact tone of my father's voice comes back to me: "I've made a rhubarb pie ... It's still hot ... Would you like to eat some?"

Short Answer Questions

1. A child born after unwanted pregnancy, as compared with a child of love.
2. A pie containing diced rhubarb and much sugar, which was lead and caused Christine sick. However, it was made with her father's love.

The Day I Sat with Jesus on the Sundeck and a Wind Came Up and Blew My Kimono
Open and He Saw My Breasts

120

By Gloria Sawai (1932-2011)

female

Definition

Gloria Johnson: A housewife who served Jesus as her guest in The Day I Sat with Jesus

Now, I know there are ways and there are ways of exposing your breasts. I know a few things. I read books. And I've learned a lot from my cousin Millie.

I knew then why so many Glorias hang around bars, talking too loud, laughing shrilly at stupid jokes, making sure everyone hears them laugh at the dirty jokes. They're just trying to live down their name, that's all. I brought out the cups and poured the tea.

I went inside the house. Well, now, wasn't that a nice visit. Wasn't that something. I examined the clothes, dry and sour in the living room. I'd have to put them back in the wash, that's all.

Short Answer Questions

1. I'm not that innocent; I'm not that naive. I'm experienced; I know sexuality.
2. To make people forget about something embarrassing or silly that you have done. To live so as to allow (a mistake, disgrace, etc.) to be forgotten or forgiven.
3. Jesus did not create miracles. He has been dethroned from the distant and divine position.
